

Solutions (Possibly)

Time management calculator, a way to separate and calculate times for activities (similar to budget calculator)

A website or reminders that give motivating affirmations to reach goals

Possibly a mix of a way to track time, while utilizing quick study tips/ techniques

A management system where you can enter deadlines and assignments into a calendar with social events, and it will output best time to do it

Reasons for solutions

Priority for events and networking for the future

Assignments and certain deadlines

Becoming used to college life and new independence

Mismanaging time due to being busy

Feedback from users

Surveys that allow for user input

Recommendations on what to improve

Asking for input on social media

Information center for questions from users

Positive impacts

Helps improve work load

Helps clear the schedule a little for more free time and hobbies

Would be less stress for students because there wouldn't be constant worry about managing time.

Better mental health

Marketing

Social media

Websites with relatable content

Lectures or speeches

Limited budget events to spend more information
